

AUTO OWNER WILL DICTATE.

His Wishes as to Types of Cars Will Be Welcomed by the Makers.

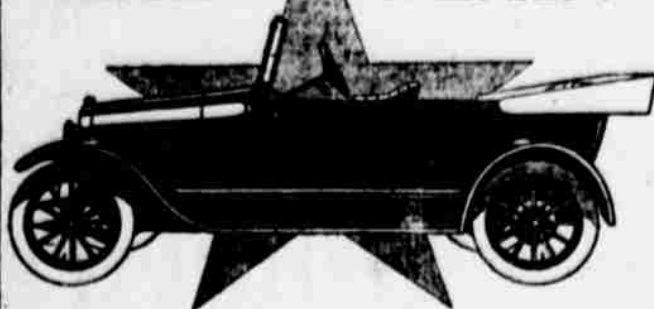

According to L. E. Wilson, Vice President of the Briscoe Motor Car Company, owners of influence, practically dictate the future types of cars. "The automobile business started as a manufacturing proposition," said Mr. Wilson to-day. "Eventually, as dealers acquired a more complete knowledge of cars, they steadily began to work their suggestions into new types, assistance which most of the manufacturers gladly accepted. "Gradually a third member squeezed his way into the construction combination—the owner. He has become more and more insistent on a recognition of his viewpoint and his desire. The policy of the Briscoe Company will be to intensify this partnership with owners by every means at its disposal. We want the owners to feel that their wishes have been consulted to the utmost in designing and building our cars."

ABOUT PLAYS AND PLAYERS

BIDE DUDLEY

The Knickerbocker Theatre, now occupied by the Triangle Film Corporation, will be dark next week. St. L. Rothapel, formerly artistic director of the Strand, has been invited to assume control of the theatre and has accepted. He will be manager of the house for the Triangle. The picture people feel that ideas such as Mr. Rothapel is credited with possessing, are needed at the Knickerbocker and they will give him carte blanche in the matter of operating the house and staging the films. Mr. Rothapel will need a week in which to have improvements made in the theatre; hence the dark period. The Knickerbocker will reopen a week from Monday under the new order of things.

Mr. Rothapel's action in assuming the management of the theatre does not mean that he has abandoned his plans for the Rialto, now being constructed on the site of the old Victoria. It is announced that Triangle pictures will be shown there under his supervision.

MISS FERGUSON JAN. 14.
Elsie Ferguson will appear for the first time in Hall Caine's new play,

"Margaret Schiller," at the Apollo Theatre, Atlantic City, Jan. 14. The play tells a story of war, yet no soldiers are seen. It is a drama without a villain.

A NEW PLAY.

When the Hackett-Tyler production of "The Melody of Youth" played at the Stamford Theatre, Stamford, Friday night, James K. Hackett was prompt to witness the performance. The assistant treasurer of the house became mildly excited over the presence of Mr. Hackett and, approaching Emily Wakeman, the theatre's manager, whispered:

"This man Hackett is the guy who has taken the Vitaphone Theatre in New York, and is to open it with a new play called 'Macbeth.'"

BELLE STOREY HONORED.
Belle Storey, soprano at the Hippodrome, formerly of Springfield, Mo., has the distinction of being the first woman elected to honorary membership in the Green Room Club. The directors at a recent meeting conferred this honor on her for her contribution to the evening's entertainment at the club's recent dinner to J. Stuart Blackton. With all its debts paid and Miss Storey as an honorary member, the Green Room Club certainly is getting up in the world.

GOSSIP.

"Pollyanna" won't open in New York until late in August.

Bernard Goorney has been added to the cast of "Katinka."

Berton Churchill has joined the cast of "The Cinderella Man."

Agnes Egan Cobb has become general manager for the Claridge Film Company.

St. Nicholas Rink has thirty more instructors than it had last winter.

Giovanni Zenatello, tenor, will sing at the Hippodrome Sunday night.

Joseph Brooks is leaving for Chicago to-day to have a look at "His Majesty, Hunker Bean."

Emily Stevens has a new Boston building. His lower teeth stick out two inches when he smiles.

Henry W. Savage has gone to Florida but will return in ten days to whip "Pom-Pom," Mizzi Hajos's new starring vehicle, into shape.

When "In Cold Type" opens in Albany, Jan. 14, the Williams College Alumnae will welcome one of its own.

Thomas T. Hoynes, who wrote the play, "They're going to see the show in a gang."

Florence Martin is going to Denver to succeed Kitty O'Connor in the title role of "The Girl of the Year."

Henry Stanford, who created the role of Jerry, may join the Western company also.

Pennmore Cooper Towne has acquired the producing rights covering Zillah Covington's sketch, "Her First Case," and will produce it with Marchie Leslie featured.

Grace Valentine left yesterday for Florida with a Rolfe-Metro film company. They will be gone two weeks and will make scenes for a Julius Stieger picture.

Olga Seymour, an English girl of seventeen, who came to New York recently as the protégée of Mme. Amy Sherwin, will be featured at the Palace next week as the youngest prima donna in the world.

"DAVID GARRICK" POSTPONED.
E. H. Sothern's revival of "David Garrick," announced for to-night at the Booth, has been postponed until Monday of next week. More time is needed for rehearsals.

MISS ST. ALBANS MAY TOUR.

There is a possibility that Khuyva St. Albans and the "Romeo and Juliet" company, which supported her at the Forty-fourth Street Theatre for three weeks recently, may go on tour, playing clear to the Pacific Coast. The matter is under consideration. If the trip is made one-night stands will be played almost exclusively.

HE ROPED SYBIL.

Sybil Carmen, the cute little girl who wiggles all over the "Midnight Frolic," was practising lariat dancing with Will Rogers, atop the New Amsterdam the other afternoon when a young man who used to live in the West, approached them. Miss Carmen had just finished her luncheon of fruit cake, cream and pickles a few minutes before. Well, sir, the newcomer took a lasso, swung it wildly and let it fly, catching her squarely around the neck.

"Ouch!" came from Miss Carmen. Then, throwing the rope off, she said: "You're pretty good with the lariat."

"I ought to be," said the ex-Westerner. "I used to rope the pigs on my father's farm all the time."

Miss Carmen left with her nose turned up just a little more than usual.

OLD SKIPPER TOOK SON'S TIP; MADE $1,000,000

President Grace of Bethlehem Steel Repays Father for Money Spent on Education.

GOSHEN, N. J., Jan. 6.—A year ago Capt. Wesley Grace, retired after many years as skipper of coal carrying boats, sold his little grocery store, his modest home and the other bits of property he owned here, and placed the proceeds in the care of a cox "war bride."

To-day, as the possessor of about $1,000,000 worth of Bethlehem Steel bonds and stocks, he is the richest man in Cape May County.

The Captain didn't go into the matter blindly, however, but acted on an inside tip from no less a person than his son, Eugene G. Grace, President of the corporation. The latter told his father a year ago that he was going to repay him for all he had spent on the son's education and urged the Bethlehem venture.

Eugene Grace started work for the corporation sixteen years ago as an operator of an electric crane at a salary of $10 per week. His income last year was more than $2,000,000. His brother, Wesley Grace Jr., is also a Bethlehem official.

WIFE CONFESSED GUILT TO SILENCE HUSBAND

Mrs. Bryant Testifies He Then Promised to Cease Upbraiding Her.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Mrs. Howard J. Bryant, a wealthy woman, popular in society, yesterday testified that while she was Mrs. Charles W. Gillett, to keep peace in the family, she confessed having been intimate with prominent to gardeners, coachmen and waiters.

There were some whose names, she said, she did not know, and being curious, she looked for them in the directory and could not find them.

She told Judge Frederick A. Smith, before whom Gillett is suing for the custody of their children, Charles W. Jr. and Elizabeth, that these confessions were to purchase peace in this manner:

"He told me if I would confess all he would forgive me, never again refer to it, stop drinking, stay at home and never again accuse me of infidelity. "I was worn out with his accusations. To purchase peace, I said I was willing to confess anything he asked. I signed the note shown here."

FOR A BAD COUGH

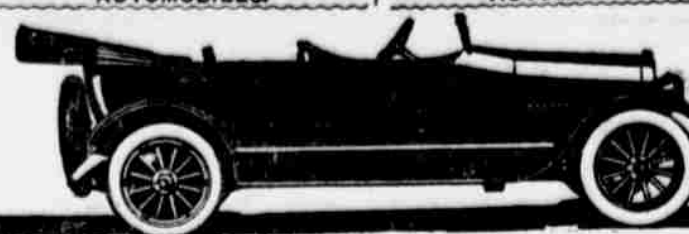

Here is a fine, old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh of the throat that has been used for many years with great success. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Eucalypti (Double Strength) and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils head clear up so you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare. Costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has a stubborn cough or hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.
